music)
With the COVID-19 quarantine, you aren't able to see the ways we continue to learn, study, and apply our knowledge. Here's a video with distance learning.

ON SCREEN
English

Camera opens on conference call displayed from student's PC. The majority of the screen is taken up by what looks like a formal presentation. The webcam shows the student's upper half. The student appears to be wearing a suit.

STUDENT
From the book: "Michaelis wasn't even sure of its color--he told the first policeman that it was light green." Green is between the colors of blue and yellow. And in car colors, well, it's between the colors of Tom's blue car and Gatsby's yellow one. This signifies the person stuck in between them, Daisy, who we later discover to be the driver. As Daisy is typically considered a "flapper girl", this incident shows that the freedom of 1920s culture, as evidenced through the car and Tom's affair, could cause harm.

CUT TO:

INT. FAMILY ROOM

PARENT (READING PHONE)

Huh, according to this site, this drug called hydroxychloroquine can help cure coronavirus.

Camera pans or cuts to STUDENT and slowly zooms in on his face.

(ranting quickly)

Actually, I've done quite a bit of research on this. Many other studies refute the claim that hydroxychloroquine substantially contributes to the fighting of SARS-CoV-2, or the COVID-19 virus. In fact, the study that suggested that it will work tested on people that were likely to heal regardless, making the study flawed and claim questionable. However, treatments involving plasma of healed individuals is currently being tested and may actually be beneficial to those that take it. I also don't like the use of the word "coronavirus" to describe it. Coronavirus is just a type of virus--the same type that causes most common colds. This is a specific strain of coronavirus, SARS-CoV-2, or severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus 2, although it was previously called the 2019 novel coronavirus (2019-nCoV). And SARS-CoV-2 is the virus. The disease is known as COVID-19, which simply means coronavirus disease 2019. It...
